City of Chico 2022-23 City Arts Grant In-kind Match Information

The dollar-for-dollar match of City Arts Grant funds aligns with the California Art Council's grant programs and with the California Art Council's philosophy of encouraging diverse and sustainable sources of revenue for grant activities. As such, the City of Chico Art Grant program becomes a partial funder for any specific project or organization.

The City of Chico Art Commission recognizes that support for organizations can come in many forms. For that reason, up to 50% of the dollar-for-dollar match requirement can be met through in-kind contributions. According to the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), "In-kind refers to a payment made with goods or services, rather than currency." The applicant organization may choose to meet the matching funds requirement with either cash or a combination of in-kind goods or services and cash.

The City of Chico Art Commission's policy on eligible in-kind matching and reporting reflects both state and federal guidelines. In accordance with the Code of Federal Regulations and FASB, in-kind contributions must be provided by third parties, and a monetary value must be able to be determined for goods and services rendered.

Third-Party: For the purposes of the City of Chico Art Grants, a third party is defined as a service provider, partner, or supplier that is independent of the applicant organization and the City of Chico Art Commission and is not compensated with grant funds.

Eligible In-kind Services: Eligible in-kind services are those that require "specialized skill" and can be documented and reported on financial statements, according to the FASB. The general rule to follow when determining if contributed services can qualify as an in-kind match is to determine whether the organization would have purchased the services if they had not been donated. According to the FASB, services that require specialized skills include those provided by accountants, architects, carpenters, lawyers, etc.

Recommendations

- Contact the City Clerk or a City of Chico Art Commissioner if you have questions about whether a service may be applied to the matching funds requirement, or whether an organization or individual may be considered a third party.
- While some services performed by volunteers may be very valuable to an organization, they may not be considered “specialized skills” as defined by the FASB. We recommend that you consult an accounting specialist to follow generally accepted accounting principles for your financial records. The FASB website may be helpful for regulations on the use of volunteer time on financial forms.
- Keep accurate records of all in-kind contributions. The National Endowment for the Arts website features Sample In-kind Contribution Forms with instructions for how to document in-kind contributions for your organization.

Keep in Mind:

- In-kind contributions should be reflected as an expense in the grant application budget. For example, if rehearsal space is donated to the organization for a project, the value of that space should be reflected as an operating/production expense. The same value should be reflected in the matching funds table as an in-kind contribution.
- Applicant organizations should accurately document and report in-kind contributions on their SMU DataArts Cultural Data Profile and Funder Report, or in their Budget Snapshot (as required). This blog offers guidance for reporting in-kind contributions on your SMU DataArts profile and report.
- Grant review panels consider the appropriateness and accuracy of matches and any in-kind contributions when ranking the fiscal management of organizations or projects and the viability of project plans.
